Lines introduced from many angles and places

Lines make up many shapes mostly consisting of triangles, circles, etc.

The shapes move in all sorts of directions in a very playful manner. They are unstable.

Colors get thrown in to the mix and the lines and colors clash all over composition. No certain shapes for color.