Red circles all fall into a pile.

Green circle extends into the composition.

Bottom part of the composition starts to have color added.

The circles start to gain some more color and shading.

Dark green lines moving calmly in and out of the composition.

Bottom square starts to move up and clean.

Lines and red circles scatter out of the picture.

The brown square is all that is left.