camera follows descent of first block, and slowly rotates around it.
camera continues downward spiral and then continues its orbit around the base.
camera continues revolving around the object as it continues to build itself. As this is happening we are interrupted with quick scenes that show the building in detail. They are the following:

block locks in and rotates.
dramatic angles

then eventually its finished and the camera comes to a slow stop.