Guitar looking object is slowly moving toward the camera.

When the guitar reaches a certain point all the blocks that form the guitar will separate.

Camera pans up to the sky as soon as all the pieces are gone.

The previously mentioned boxes will be circling the sky.

Camera pans down to reveal a hilly landscape.

These blocks start to fall from the sky and look like houses

One big block covers up our view to end animation.